

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Participating in the tauriwow.com (hereinafter referred to as the operator) online game is bound to the full acceptance and compliance of these terms and conditions. By registering and taking part in the game you agree to follow the terms of use. This document overrides any previous versions of the terms and conditions.

Registration

Registration is a prerequisite of participating in the game. Registration is done on the official site, and it is limited to natural person only. Underage person ensures by accepting the registration that registering, attending to the game, and using the site may only be done under the privilege of their legal guardian. During registration the user must provide a username, and a legitimate email address. The chosen username cannot be abusive, obscene, intimidating and may not conflict with morality. Email addresses and domain addresses are not allowed as a username. The user takes responsibility for the credibility and completeness of the provided data, and also needs to inform the operator about any change of this data in the future (especially about any email address changes). The user is required to prove the authenticity of their data on operator demand. The correct and accepted registration entitles the user of using the database-management service provided by the operator.

Personal Only

A registration may only be done manually. Any automatized registration method is forbidden during registration and gameplay. The game requires that every instruction (mouse click, keyboard press) is done directly by the registered user and their express will.

Participating in the game

The game server is under continuous development by the operator. The user may only participate in the actual version of the game and other related services. Participating in the game is free for any registered users, but certain services may require payment. We provide more details about aid services and payments later at the description of these services. Before using any paid service an underage user may provide that the paid amount is provided by their legal guardians for their own fair use. The operator is not entitled to verify the validity of the data provided by the users. In cases and claims about data that may found to be invalid, or about an underage user who participated in a paid service without the knowledge of their legal guardians and/or acknowledging their own age, the operator is not required to meet any repayment demand about any already paid and used service.

User Accounts

By an orderly registration a user is entitled to an account, which is administered by the user itself, who is fully responsible for any activity that is related to their account. Giving away, or transferring this account is forbidden. Unauthorized entry to a user account is considered as a computer related criminal offense, which is contrary not only to this terms and conditions, but also to the law. Any data related to the user account (email, account ID, password), and activity on this data is secret. The owner of this secret is the user, who is required to keep this data safe. The user must never provide this data to anyone (not even relatives, friends, other users, and not even the operator of the server). The operator, or anyone on behalf of the operator won't, and is not entitled to ask for this data. Any demand for this data should be refused and immediately notified to the operator.

Collecting items to the User Account

The user is entitled to put items on their user account, which are collected by participating in the game, or purchasing with the virtual currency used on the official site. The operator owns responsibility for these items in the nature of its database-management service. The users are responsible for using these items according to the rules. Owing the fact above, and those stated under the User Accounts section, in the event of item loss, or irregular item usage, the user may not appeal by stating someone else possessed the item in question. The operator is only responsible for verifying and/or recovering lost items, if the loss is caused by database-management error (software error). If the item loss is solely caused by database-management error (software error), the operator restores the user account (and its content) to an earlier point before the proven date of the software error.

Credit purchase

Tauri Credit (hereinafter Credit) purchase for currency (Hungarian Forints) is available on the official website for general and seasonal (discount) conversation rates. For the amount paid the operator in its database-management service provides a straightforward quid pro quo.

Process of ordering:

1. In case of Credit Card Payment, the operator's website redirects the user to the online payment interface of the current contracted financial institution, where users can provide their credit card information. If the provided credit card can be charged with the amount approved by the user, the purchased credit will be automatically credited in the user's Account. Using the credit card payment option is only allowed for users using their own credit cards.
2. In case of SMS Payment, the user sends an SMS to a number. This number, and also the text of the SMS is specified on the operator's official website, and may differ for each available countries. If the mobile operator could charge the card, a user will receive a confirmation message from the operator of this service. In case of successful SMS Payment, the purchased Credit amount will be automatically credited in the user's Account.

The operator is not taking responsibility for any abuse, scam or fake credit purchase orders.

Vote Credit

Vote Credit is an alternative virtual currency, which can be obtained in the Vote menu of the VIP Panel (see below). The users have the opportunity to vote on a 3rd party website, in return of a symbolic amount of Vote Credits. The process of voting:

1. The user clicks to a selected link in the aforementioned menu
2. The user authenticates him or herself by typing in a short text
3. The user votes for the server maintained by the operator, which credits the Vote Credit on the user's account

Contrary to Tauri Credit, Vote Credit is not available as a fully supported currency in every service.

VIP Panel

VIP Panel is an interface containing all provided services, where the user can exchange or use their Credits on any of the services mentioned below in this section.

VIP Membership

VIP Membership can be obtained by the minimum amount of 800 Credits. A user with VIP Membership owns certain privileges which improve user experience in a way that does not mean any advantage in gameplay against non-VIP members.

The selected characters are cloned based on a state saved on July the 2nd, 2014. The first clone is free, every other costs 400 Credits. This transaction cannot be canceled.

Risk Assessment

The user acknowledges that participating in the online game contains the same risks as any online game, and applications working on the same basis, or even Internet usage in general. The operator is not responsible for communicating these risks. The user is assumed to know and take care of these risks. The user cannot reference their lack of knowledge in case of any external influence on their account, any hardware or software. Owing the facts above the operator is not in position to verify, refund, fix, or restore accounts if the damage is clearly caused by either the user's lack of knowledge or any illegal access to the account.

Obligation to Inform

Each user is obliged to inform the operator about any possible unlawful external access to their account, so the operator can proceed with the necessary steps against the issue, to prevent itself from negative publicity caused by issues not connected to the operator's activity itself. Based on notification the operator is taking action in its full potential to terminate any unlawful access. The operator is liable for content posted by users, and remove them if they are against the law, or suspicious in any way, but the operator is not in position for monitoring these contents. Each user is obliged to inform the operator about any content deemed to be suspicious.

Temporary restriction the users rights, and game access

In case the operator notices anything related to a user, which would indicate misusing or abusing of any part of the game, the operator has the right to restrict the user's access, functionality of the game, or any access to the official website. The restriction is released only when the suspicion of abuse is proved to be false. Above all, the operator cannot guarantee, but endeavors to maintain a non-stop operation of the game.
